Overview: Discover how to shape sound and create your own effects using the widely used software package Ableton Live.

In this workshop, you will learn how to create your own distinctive effects, timbres and sound textures with Ableton Live, drawing on theories from the disciplines of semiotics and psychology.

The session is divided into two sections:

1. Processing and sound effects creation techniques.
2. Mixing and mastering techniques.

You don't need to have used Ableton Live software before to take part.

Equipment: None needed
